

The most fabulous, incredible, fun school holiday courses ever.

Really, we're not kidding.

Our school holiday courses aren't just great because they get the kids out of the house. They are designed to develop your child's creativity, analytical thinking and social skills as well. Oh, and they're REALLY FUN!

Multi-Art Collaborative Theatre Production

13th to 17th Feb, 10am – 3pm

Taught by: Make Believe Arts, Jane Elliot, Ben Rous and Maggie Higginson

5 days, 3 art forms, 1 incredible collaborative performance and installation. The art building will be transformed into another world to bring one of Maurice Sendak's most poignant illustrated stories to life. This will be The Conservatoire's first collaboration with MakeBelieve Arts. Your child can specialise in Drama, Art or Music, but all classes will work together for part of each day to create the final performance.

For ages 6-12. (£150)

Art Workshop – Giacometti's Dog

17th Feb 10am – 3pm

Taught by: Natali Sitko

The class will explore the work of Alberto Giacometti, both his unusual drawing technique and his stylized sculpture. Utilizing exercises that unlock 'Right Brain' thinking to enhance the creativity of their sketches, the class will learn different drawing techniques including scrubbing and drawing on wet paint as well as create their own wire sculptures inspired by Giacometti's 'Dog'.

For ages 7-13. (£45)

Drama Club – 'Great Expectations'

13th to 17th Feb, 10am – 3pm

Taught by: Simon Geal

In the year celebrating Charles Dickens' 200th birthday, Drama Club will create their own production of 'Great Expectations'. Final performance on Friday.

For ages 10-16. (£150)
